POST HAS CHANCES-4 ..x ..x. x Physicians of the City hospital, Morgantown, late today stated that Porter W. Post, of Lost Creek, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident along the Speedway, Morgan-town, has fair chances for recovery. He is not out of danger, however. He has sustained a fracture at the base of the skull and the physicians will not know until later just how serious this will be.

In addition he sustained a cut-above the left car and another near the right was rendered unconscious. The se-verity of his condition was at once noticed and he was rushed to the hos-pital shortly after 6:30 o'clock when the accident occurred.

Post was accompanying William Snyder, salesman for Swift & Company in the Fairmont territory, when without warning the front wheel of the automobile flew off and the ma-chine struck the embankment and it turned turtle. Snyder managed to extricate himself from the wreckage, but Post was pinned down and found lying unconscious.

Post was a candidate for commissioner of agriculture in the Demo-oratic primary election against J. B. Finley, of Parkersburg, and is a cous-in of Meiville Davisson Post, the writ-er. Mr. Post returned from a cantonment in the south and was married recently, his wife is now on her way to the hospital from Martinsburg. Mr. Post has done extensive research work in Cuba, and a number of states in the union.

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES.

Dinner parties at the Fairmont Country Club are in evidence at this time.

Mrs. Rogers has assumed her old role of Stewardess at the club and is pro-viding delicious meals for those who arrange for them in advance. The club house and grounds are most beautiful this year, more so than in any previous year, and members are frequently at the club in large numbers; in fact, their presence at the club in large numbers is more in evidence this year than at any time in the former. year than at any time in the former history of the Club.

A very enjoyable dinner at the Fairmont Country Club last night was composed of Miss Mary Ellen Henry, Miss Heintzelman, Mr. William Flaher ty and others.

At the Fairmont Country Club last evening Mr. Brooks Fleming, Jr., entertained at dinner Mr. John G. Smyth of Jenkins, Kentucky, Mr. G. M. Gillette of Frostburg, Maryland, Mr. E. R. To Our Patrons

NO CONTROL DE LA CONTROL DE LA

Realizing the necessity of our application for increased railway and electric power rates, The Public Service Commission of West Virginia has granted them, effective June 1, 1919.

The railway fares will be seven cents in the cities of Fairmont and Clarksburg and the interurban fares will be seven cents in each zone.

Electric power rates will be increased approximately twenty per cent, but electric lighting rates are not affected.

These changes were caused by increased and ever growing expenditures.

Continued co-operation of our patrons will assure SERVICE.
